SEARCH FOR MISSING CASHIER

Trusted Employee Has Disappeared With Funds

Police Inquiry Fails to Disclose Whereabouts of Man

Flora Von Bradow, cashier of the Hotel Braun, in Eleventh street, between Washington and Broadway, formerly Kessler's Cafe, disappeared mysteriously last night and at the same time, according to Manager Schulz, manager of the place, declared that $500 entrusted to the cashier also disappeared. The police have been notified to search for Von Bradow and an investigation of his affairs has been ordered.

Von Bradow has been cashier of the cafe for the past four months, having come there soon after Richard Kessler's death. He has been regularly entrusted with the funds of the place, which is one of the largest restaurant cafes in Oakland.

According to Manager Schulz, he left Von Bradow in charge last night shortly before midnight. This has been the custom of the place and Von Bradow has had the duty when the restaurant closed of locking up the receipts in the safe. This morning Schulz discovered that the money had not been placed in the safe. He immediately rushed to the home of Von Bradow, where he learned from Mrs. Von Bradow that her husband had not returned from work last night and that she knew nothing of his whereabouts.

Schulz reported the matter to the police department and detectives were detailed to investigate. It is probable that a warrant will be issued.

Estimates of the amount taken in at the cafe Saturday and Sunday, based upon the cash register showing, indicate that there was something over $500 entrusted to Von Bradow. Every effort will be made to trace the man. It is just possible that he may have met some friends who induced him to go out on a celebration and nothing has been learned, however, as to his actions after he left the cafe last night.

TO-DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

The battle in Flanders was continued today with the same ferocity which has consistently marked this crucial struggle since it began, more than a month ago. From French sources come reports of minor advantages in the fighting, but the great issue there, as on the eastern frontier of Germany, still hangs in the balance. Berlin made the statement that three British warships, part of the fleet which had been assisting the allies to stem the German onrush toward the English channel, had been disabled.

Of greater importance to Great Britain than any of the day's passing events was the question of the attitude in the world war to be taken by the millions of Moslems in her colonial possessions. Reports emanating from some instances at least were siding with the sultan of Turkey, to whom they owe spiritual allegiance, as against Great Britain.

The German attack in the extreme west is shifting slowly southward in Belgium toward the French border. The country to the west of Dixmude has been transformed by the tapping of canals and the heavy rains, into a vast swamp, in which heavy fighting is almost impossible.

South of Dixmude, the French War Office said today, renewed German efforts to cross the Yser canal were beaten back, with the destruction of a German regiment. The French claim the recapture of positions taken recently by the enemy.

In London it is rumored that a large force of Germans around Dixmude has been cut off by the floods. The inundated country now extends south of Dixmude to within three miles of Bixchoote, about half way to the

Goes Insane at Receipt of News.Grass Valley, Nov. 15.—Four sons killed in battle, mother a suicide and the father insane is the fate of the family of S. Neuberger of this place. The young man answered the first call and fell at the same time in one of the early battles of the European war. When news of the death reached home the mother committed suicide and the father became insane, and now wanders over the country playing flowers on every black, thinking it the grave of his sons.Stockton, Nov. 15.—While swimming in the San Joaquin river yesterday afternoon, Rupe Durate, a resident of Centerville, waded out beyond its depth and was drowned. Two other young men were with him at the time, but were unable to render assistance. They declared he was a fairly good swimmer, but was probably seized with cramps. Coroner Wallace took charge of the body and will ship it to relatives.Sacramento, Nov. 15.—Dr. Margaret Spenleberger, commissioner of elementary schools, recommended to the State Board of Education that the dictionary

be placed on the State text-book list and schools. Before the adoption of the free school books amendment children could be required to purchase dictionaries.
Neither cities nor counties can buy them

the situation of Germany at war with half the nations of Europe, Professor Ewald Flugel, head of the English philosophy department of Stanford university, died at his home in Palo Alto, Saturday night. Professor Flugel, son of a family of dictionary makers, himself

ASKS DIVORCEHis Affinity Taunted Her, She Alleges in Complaint
Filed.SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Although Mrs. Frieda Munger, wife of Dr.
Arthur Munger, a physician at the Lan-gum hospital, was brought face to face with hubby's alleged affinity, she failed to mention the woman's name in a superior court today. Whether or not she is shielding her spouse's infidelity is a question which will be determined at the trial, but she hesitates not to quote taunts hurled at her by her rival."You will be a detriment to his work.
I don't see why you came back," is the statement she alleges the affinity made to her when introduced into the Munger household at 1229 Pine street.
Mrs. Munger left her October 27, 1913, to visit her mother in Switzerland. She declared that she received no letter from Dr. Munger during her absence and on her return in September, he failed to meet her at the door. Soon after he told her he was in love with another woman, she avers, and subsequently brought the object of his affections to call upon her.It was then that the woman made claim that she thought the wife's appearance on the scene and the divorce in the household resulted.Mrs. Munger has retained Attorney Purcell Rowe to look out for her interests. The Munger were married in San Luis Obispo August 7, 1914.PROTEST AGAINST U. S.

the delegation that went to the White House last week with a protest against race segregation in government departments' told their case before a mass meeting of negroes here yesterday.The meeting adopted a formal protest to the American people against the pronounced tendency in American law and public opinion to draw the color line."We make this appeal at this time," stated the statement, "because it has been ascertained by us from the highest authority in the nation that it is the policy of the federal government to draw the

of the country denigrate and denounce

PHYSICIAN IN COURT; GIRL IS HIS ACCUSERIDA NILES, 17-YEAR-OLD GIRL, WHO MAKES CHARGES AGAINST
CHILDREN'S HOME AID SOCIETY.Los Angeles Philanthropist and Woman
Also Under Arrest in CaseSAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—In sweeping warrants against Dr.
Charles L. Morse and Mrs. Florence Widup, for violating section 274 of the Penal Code, and Herbert W. Lewis of Los Angeles for felonious assault, Ida Niles, the girl who complained to the police yesterday, declared that her true name was Ida Dagner. Judge
Crist fixed bail in the case of Dr.
Morse and Mrs. Widup at $5000 cash.
Detective Wiskotich will leave tonight for Los Angeles to bring Lewis here for trial.Dr. Morse, the veteran physician, who gave his age to the boiling sergeant as 75, and who, in default of bail, was forced to remain in prison since his arrest early yesterday morning, appeared before Police Judge Crist today to face his accuser. Ida Niles, a 17-year-old girl, who charges him with performing an unlawful operation, jointly accused with Dr. Morse is Mrs. Florence Widup, a young matron of 26.
She, too, was unable to obtain her release, and unless her bail is reduced, seems likely to remain in jail until the case comes to trial. Down in Los Angeles, Herbert W. Lewis philanthropist, social worker and right arm of the Juvenile Court, is under arrest for felonious assault,
and this morning the Niles girl swore to the charge against him. He will be brought to this city and tried.
Although claiming to be 17 years old, Ida Niles looked like a grammar school girl of 14 as she appeared refreshed by a good night's rest, in the detention home today. She wasbrought down to the Hall of Justice at 9:30, and after making her formal accusations against the three persons under arrest at her instigation,
she appeared for a moment in court
while the cases of Dr. Morse and Mrs.
Widup were called and continued until Wednesday.The story of alleged betrayal by the little waif, who has spent nearly all of her young life in orphan asylums, is almost beyond belief. She ascribes her downfall solely to the attack upon her of Herbert W. Lewis, who was her guardian, appointed by the Los Angeles Juvenile Court and who was in charge of the Children's Home Aid Society in the southern city. She informed the police that she was only one of a number of victims and that she succumbed to Lewis' advances
only after she had been unable longer to fight him off. She declares that she was placed in a private family in Los Angeles, but that Lewis was not allowed to see her alone there. Subsequently, she declares, arrangements were made to send her East, but that instead the train brought her north and Lewis met her and took her to the Hotel Del Monte. There, and later at the Hotel Atlas in this city, she says, he registered her as his daughter and rented two rooms, one of which, however, was not occupied.
Finally he obtained for her a situation in the home of Mrs. Widup. Later discovering that she was ill, the girl charges she told Mrs. Widup and was taken to Dr. Morse. Mrs. Widup is alleged to have been present when the physician operated and subsequently to have taken care of the little girl.Ida Niles was found wandering on the edge of the park early yesterday morning. She had been at the beach and her actions had caused a policeman to investigate her and take her to headquarters. There she told her story, resulting in the arrest here of Dr. Morse and Mrs. Widup and in Los Angeles of Lewis. The latter denies the accusations of the girl, declaring that he expected arrest, as she had been after him for money. Lewis has always been to the forefront in philanthropic work. He was for seven years superintendent of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society in this city; had charge of the New York Children's Aid Society at one time and was special representative of the Red Cross in distributing money to the victims of the Galveston flood.Ida Niles does not remember her died nine years ago. She has been in an orphanage in South Dakota

and has three sisters and a brother, whose whereabouts she does not know.

HIDDEN IN FORESTPORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Nov. 15.—
A prospector who returned last night from the Olympic mountains says that he found a fully equipped wireless station on top of a peak, at an elevation of about 3000 feet. Power was secured from a stream, and two fall trees were utilized for masts for the wire. He stated that the man in charge said the plant was for ex-

PRAISED BY PASTORRev. Arthur W. Palmer, pastor of Plymouth Congregational church, told his congregation last night that the results of the election proved California to be on the up-grade morally. He said that following the elimination of the reck track gambling and slot machines,
light privileges and prize fights now
had been driven out of the State, too.
He stated that if the prohibition movement had been no more drastic than those of Washington and Oregon then it would have carried.METROPOLITAN

Secures Options, But Will First

Water.SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—Louis
Hendrick, president of the Seattle Brewing and Maltting company, is at the Palace and will remain here for several days.He has secured an option on a piece of San Francisco property, the location of which he will not reveal at present, because experiments are being made with the available water to learn its suitability for brewing purposes.
If the water proves unsuitable another location will be sought.The Seattle Brewing and Maltting company expects to invest about $500,000 in the brewery in California. Much of the material used in Seattle will be shipped here and the brewery in that city will be partially dismantled.Whether it will be completely abandoned depends upon the results of lit-eration to determine the constitution-ality of Washington's new prohibition law.The Seattle Brewing company and other breweries in that state are still considering the steps to be taken.
The provisions of Washington's prohibition law are unclear, and in this fact lies the possibility that the courts will set it aside. It goes into effect on January 1, 1916.No one can get a permit more frequently than every 20 days, and it cannot be refilled. It allows the person holder to buy 24 bottles of beer, or half a gallon of spirituous liquor, to be shipped to him. This liquor must come from the outside, and it is the permissibility of the law which leads to the belief that it will be held to be discriminatory against home manufacture.Hendrick intends to go to Los Angeles and investigate the situation there,
before returning north.

Oppose Militarism in Schools.

State Master Ream, of the Nebraska Grange, as introduced in meeting of the National Grange a resolution protesting against war department installing in the schools of the country a military system. It appears from the tenor of the resolution that the department has secured the organization of rifle clubs in forty-two universities and in eighty-four private and preparatory schools of the country and in pressing the work. All the high schools in New York are utilized as rifle clubs and more than 700 boys between ten and eighteen years qualify annually as junior marksmen under a course approved by the department.

The objections to the action do not appear to be well founded. The light of recent developments abroad it must be conceded that a nation is likely to become involved in war, treaties to the contrary notwithstanding. It has been demonstrated too that all this about the common people refusing to go out and shoot the common people of another country is twaddle; that when one nation attacked or attacks, the men of the opposing government flock to standards. The same would be true of our own land in case of war.

These conditions being accepted as true, in the event of war between the United States and a foreign power, who would be the defender of his native land, the trained young man who has defended himself in the use of small arms, or the untrained?

The trend of sentiment in America has always been against the maintenance of a large standing army. So long as that sentiment existed the first line of defense following the navy will be the militia. Will it not be better, in the event of trouble, to have such militia, or volunteers, composed of men skilled in use of weapons, rather than raw recruits who would not know the difference between bayonet and a cleaning rod?

In common with millions of men and women, this paper believes that it is folly, and hopes the day will soon come when it will be no longer the means of adjustment of questions affecting the welfare of a people of the earth. But so long as wars exist it would be silly also to take a step that would leave us entirely helpless simply because we advocate a policy of peace. Until other lands agree with ours for general disarmament, simultaneous in character, it is the duty of this country to be prepared for possible contingencies.

Senator Newlands had a close call in Nevada. A majority over his next competitor of only thirty-eight in a statewide contest is no close for comfort.

Now that Oregon and Washington have voted "dry," a number of schooners may be expected to strand while crossing the bar.

Another 'Lost City' Discovered.

Announcement is made from Los Angeles of the discovery, confirmed by photographs and relics brought back, of another "lost city of the Incas" in Peru. The story bears all the earmarks of truth and there is no apparent reason for doubting it.

In the unexplored areas of the South American continent, as well as in Central America, evidences of a very ancient civilization have, from time to time, been found, and while in the past the professors and savants of the nations have given Egypt and the other countries bordering on the Mediterranean almost exclusive attention, it begins to look as if these later finds will in future constitute a basis for comparative study and exploration.

There are evidences of a civilization as old as that of Memphis and of Thebes in the two countries mentioned, and it is by no means improbable that it was as far advanced. Certain it is that there are points of similarity both in architecture and in hieroglyphics as compared with the Egyptian. Pyramids have been found which, while not so large as those of Egypt, are of similar shape and it is related that many inscriptions bear a close resemblance to those found in the land of the Pharaohs.

These circumstances have been considered by believers in the existence of what has been designated as the lost continent of "Atlantis," as proof that that land of mystery once extended from South America to the continent of Africa and when destroyed by an immense upheaval of the earth which caused the waters of the great deep to flood the larger part of its area, either the survivors of the catastrophe on the western side, or their predecessors in exploration, founded new homes and new nations in the northern portion of South America and in Central America.

Of course all this is chiefly supposition, but there is a possibility that when thorough explorations and excavations have been made, that the wise men of our own generation may solve the mystery attaching to the birth and growth of the human race on this side of the world, a consummation, to quote Hamlet, "devoutly to be wished for."

For inasmuch as we appear to be thwarted in our search for the individuality of Infinity, as intimated by Zophar the Naamathite in the great dialogue in Job, perhaps we shall find solace in the study of mankind and his history. Even so we shall be well rewarded.

In connection with the discovery of this city mentioned, it is added that the Amazon has been traced to its source where, as a stream not two inches wide it trickles from a mountain nearly 18,000 feet high in the mighty range of the Andes, a no small achievement by the way and one of great value to geographers.

Boisus Thompson, an I. W. W., has confessed to firing a theater in Tonopah, the blaze destroying sixteen dwellings in addition to the place of amusement. Boisus is now in line for a presidential nomination at the hands of his party.

In order to be a success in politics it is suggested the colonel make a few lessons from Son-in-law Nick.

Five counties having been ordered to recount their returns because the secretary of state found flagrant errors therein, we may look for a proclamation on the amendment some time next summer.

Great Opportunity for Sardine Industry.

Since the beginning of the European war, imports of many delicacies manufactured across the Atlantic have practically ceased. Hamburger, Neuchatel, Swiss, Roquefort, Fromage de Brie and other grades of cheese are no longer received; we have been cut off from our supply of piquant sauces, our esteemed imported sausages and a large extent our sardine supply.

Monterey bay and other coast waters of California produce sardines in billions. True, government demands that they be labeled mackerel, because these little edible fishes on this coast we designate as sardines are a species of mackerel, but nevertheless they are tasty, as high flavored and in all essentials the equal of the imported, when properly put up.

Now your French sardine, your Portuguese sardine, or any other sardine from over the water for that matter, are by no means superior to the Monterey bay fish when the latter is properly packed. The Frenchman and the Portuguese pack sardines in pure olive oil. They do not use cotton seed oil, or any other oil as an adulterant; they use pure olive oil. California makes as fine an olive oil as any country in the world and makes an ample supply of it to use for the sardine pack, with plenty to spare for other purposes.

According to a statement made THE TRIBUNE by an expert who has been engaged in the importing business for many years, the sardine packers of California will take advantage of conditions, by the time the war is ended they will have displaced the imported product. The best grades of imported sardines retail here at twenty-five cents per small box. Others nearly as good sell for fifteen cents. This includes cost of packing, tin, oil, fish, shipments across the ocean and heretofore by rail across the continent and a twenty-five cent ad valorem duty under the Underwood tariff. Even though the cost of labor is higher here than abroad, it is stated the difference in price can be more than overcome by local packers and the foreign product displaced by the domestic. California spends tens of thousands of dollars each year for imported sardines which can be kept at home if packers are careful to take the same pains the packers of other lands indulge in.

But as the superiority of the imported is due almost entirely to the use of pure olive oil, the putting on the market of a product in which blended or inferior grades are used will not accomplish the result.

CHAPMAN GIVEN VOTE.
In Alameda, Justice of the Peace R. E. Tamm, who was defeated by L. E. Kelley, at the primaries, received 2037 written-in votes, which is one of the remarkable features of the election. Tamm received 5393 votes and he will be the next Justice of Peace in Alameda, presiding over the police court.
Justice P. C. Quinn of Pleasanton was given 643 votes, being the only candidate to survive the primaries, and Justice Fitzgerald of Murray township received 1051 votes.
For Justice of the Supreme Court, short term, Attorney Melvin C. Chapman received 1039 written-in votes, Matt I. Sullivan of San Francisco 4608, Samuel Shortridge of San Francisco 112 and E. M. Owens 105 votes in this county.
Out of the general election it is certain that at least two contests will develop within the next five days, the time allowed for the filing of petitions. J. H. Helmstein declares that he will contest the election of Superior J. M. Kelley, who won by nearly 300 votes, and Frank Mitchell Jr. will contest the election of D. O. Toffelmeyer of San Leandro as Justice of the Peace of Eden Township, who won by two votes. Mitchell received 1719 votes and his opponent 1721.
The official election count showed a vote cast of 90,072 out of a registration of 122,405, in the 253 precincts of the county. The figures of the official count, in accordance with which election certificates were ordered issued, are as follows:

England in Throes of Severe Storms

LONDON, Nov. 15. — Severe winter weather has reached England in the past twenty-four hours. Snow a foot deep is reported from Ekevalley, county of Derby. The highways are blocked and snow plows are being used. The mountain roads in North Wales are impassable, owing to the blizzard, which has drifted the snow.

On account of the continuous heavy rains the rivers Severn and Forth are over their banks and much damage to property has resulted.

Along the coasts a number of accidents to shipping have occurred.

PREFERRED DANCE TO HUBBY. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15. — Because his wife preferred the maze of the dance and continued round of pleasure rather than make a home for him and live quietly, J. H. Weaver, a stenographer, told Judge Graham this morning that he planned unobtainable for him. He explained that the defendant, Mrs. Arthur Weaver is at present in Sacramento, where she has been having a gay time. He was given an interlocutory decree of divorce.

A Distinctive Interior Finish

FOR interior woodwork and furniture, no finish is more effective and distinctive than that rich, dull effect so much sought after by decorators and home owners of real artistic sense. This is best obtained by the use of

Flat-Finish

Formerly, to produce this rich, dull effect it was necessary to rub a gloss surface with pumice stone. This method was slow and expensive. Today the decorator or painter who knows varnishes produces the same effect by using Hilo Flat-Finish. A saving in time and money is the result.

Ask your dealer about Hilo Flat-Finish.

IS VANITY FEMININE? Men Have Some Foibles Lady Churchill Finds

LADY RANDOLPH CHURCHILL recently wrote an essay on vanity and considered, principally, vanity of women.

It is the usual way, but there are vain men. Women haven't cornered all the vanity in the world by any means.

In Lady Churchill's London last summer there was an advertisement for vain men. It matched any "ad" of the beauty doctors, and very likely the gentleman who invented the lotion was clearing a fortune when the war broke out. He advertised thus:

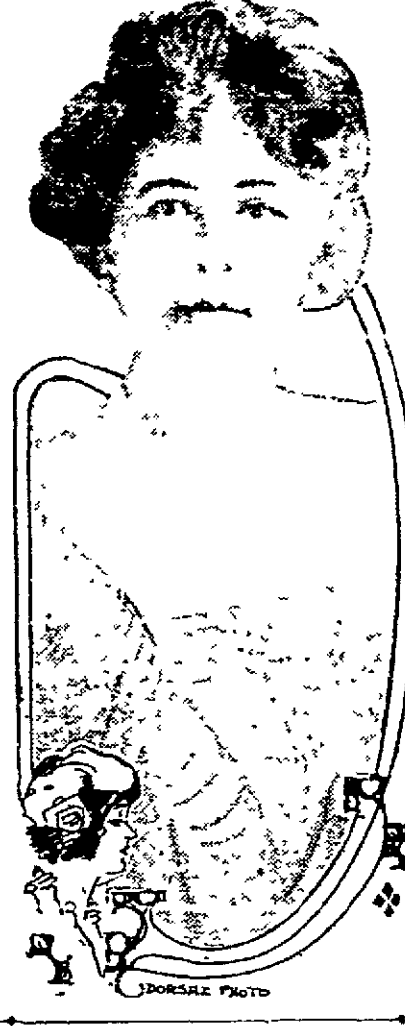

"Sunburn in bottles. A rich mahogany color that cannot be told from genuine sunburn is made by the famous 'Lotion'. Remedies mailed on request with sample."

Possibly the wording was slightly different, but the announcement printed in London papers, and was discovered by a California visitor last summer, was the above, in effect.

The California woman said it made her distrust the healthy tan of all her English friends, and she spent futile moments studying their faces. If they used the lotion it was all the advertisement promised, for she couldn't be sure that one of them had "faked" sunburn.

Also, she said, a man does look more interesting with the sun-burned color of a sportsman, and if fate and fortune keep him in a bank or law office, instead of on the links or riding to hounds, who can blame him for buying his sunburn in bottles?

No one, of course, but men so rarely get the credit for their perfectly legitimate vanity.

POSTOFFICE OFFICIAL DIES.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Henry Conquest Clark, for many years Washington newspaper correspondent, and as a postal official one of the service, died at his home here yesterday after a protracted illness. He was 75 years old. Born in Peterboro, England, Clark became a newspaper career reporter for the London Times. He came to Washington forty years ago and became correspondent of a New York paper.

Later he was sent to Mexico and forming a close personal friendship with the Emperor Maximilian, joined imperial staff, on which he served until the monarch's downfall.

THE REST ROOM

By LILLIAN RUSSELL.

REST is so essential to beauty that a woman should see that her bedroom is a rest place. Its name suggests a place of rest, but it is not always equipped as a room to be used to refresh the mind and body.

Most bedrooms are always plain furnished. The walls are of a neutral color. There are no pictures or ornaments. The furniture and fixtures are of a simple design. This is for the sake of economy, but for the express purpose of making the room restful where there is nothing to excite the mind through the sense of sight.

The bedroom should be as simple as you can place it. The bed should be placed with the head to the left and the foot to the right. It is also well to guard against all noises that are unusual in the home. Of course the ventilation of the room should be considered, for there is no possible rest without an abundant supply of fresh air.

After the room has been carefully selected, attention must be given to its furniture. It need not be the bare room one sees in hospitals. Indeed it may be made more beautiful and yet remain restful. However, the greatest care should be exercised in selecting colors entering into the decorations. Soothing colors are best fitted to the bedroom.

Wall paper designs should be of such a character that they will not have a tendency to excite the mind. Avoid large roses and vivid colors. Each article of furniture ought to be chosen with the idea of promoting rest for the occupant of the room.

With this care given to the bedroom you will have additional chances for rest and sleep. Place a glass of water on a table beside the bed. A book of matches and a handkerchief. These are handy when you have had occasion to use them.

REMEMBER—The subdued and soothing atmosphere of a properly furnished bedroom is conducive to sleep and rest, and both are essential to beauty and health.

LILLIAN RUSSELL.

B. G. The outside around the nails should never be cut. This roughens the skin and forms hangnails. If you will soak your finger tips in hot soapy water for about five minutes before manicuring your nails, then dry and rub a good cream or vaseline around the nails and allow it to remain for a short time, then gently press back the cuticle with the blunt end of the orangewood stick, you will have no trouble in keeping the nails in good condition. Each morning the cuticle should be pushed back carefully and the nails slightly polished.

M. N. The egyptian salts solution for reducing flesh has been printed several times, but in response to your request and several others, I am glad to print it again for you. Dissolve a half pound of epsom salts in a pint of water. Soave fine one and a half bars of white soap and dissolve that in a pint of hot water. When partially cool, add the epsom salts solution. Massage this preparation heavily into the fleshy parts at night and allow it to dry on the skin. In the morning wash off. Continue treatment until you have reduced to the weight you wish to be. The average loss of weight per week is two pounds. Twice a week before taking treatment it would be good to immerse the body for a few minutes in a tubful of very hot water into which has been thrown hair a boxful of ordinary bathing soap. When the hair is wet, about to melt away jump out of the tub and scrub yourself, hastily wrap in a woolen blanket. When you cease perspiring which may not be for half an hour, dry body and rub in the epsom salts lotion. This treatment is effective and perfectly harmless.

Answers to Queries.
MRS. C. Ruffs shorten the shoulder line. When aiming at a long, slim neck don't forget the value of the little neck trimming. A slender strip of velvet is effective. The aim is to draw the eye to the neck and away from the shoulders. If the neck is short, tend to shorten the line of the shoulders. There are short necked women who make the neck look longer by the trick of having the head and turning the chin a little. It gives a long graceful curve to the neck and throat. Earrings make the neck look longer. The tall, white lace collar, if fitted to the neck lengthens it, but it must actually fit. Getting a long neck is often a matter of carrying the shoulders back. The woman who rocks her shoulders forward, humps her back, lowers her chin, and sags at the chest, and hundreds of women do these things, will never have a neck that can be described as a line of beauty.

SANS SOUCI CLUB.
Much interest is being taken in the first dance of the new Sans Souci club that will take place at the Oakland on Friday evening, November 27. It will be one of the important dances of the season and a number of dinners will be given before it, several having been planned to take place at the club. Most of the patronesses will have guests for the evening. They include Mrs. Granville Abbott, Mrs. W. G. Henshaw, Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Mrs. Mrs. Clarence Wetmore, Mrs. Louis Ghirardelli and Mrs. George W. Rodolph.

Later he was sent to Mexico and forming a close personal friendship with the Emperor Maximilian, joined imperial staff, on which he served until the monarch's downfall.

GIRLS IN BAD HEALTH.
Hundreds of girls are suffering from after day, afflicted with some ailment peculiar to their sex, dragging one foot wearily after the other, working always with one eye on the clock and wishing for closing time to come. Every such girl should read "The Girl's Own Book" by Dr. E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to a normal healthy condition, then work will be a pleasure. For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been proven, and is successful in controlling the diseases of women who do not try it.

INJURED GIRL FINDS KNIGHT IN GREENWAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Edward Greenway, the Caliph of San Francisco society for years and years, came nearer losing his imperial police yesterday afternoon than he had even done since the day he issued his first proclamation as to who should and who should not be his subjects in the realm of the social elite of the city.

The king of kings of society, speeding his automobile with roaring muffler and screaming siren over the winding roads of Golden Gate Park, was chased, outflanked, roared at and otherwise harried by plebeian policemen.

Mighty cuts were the explanations with which Ned Greenway dismissed the meddlesome peace officers as they overtook him, and profound were the bows and curtsies of the policemen when they uncovered the mission of Greenway.

For Greenway was flying on an errand of mercy for a pretty young woman. In his automobile was Miss Ida Ruffo, the victim of an accident, who lives in the Globe rooming house in Fillmore street.

Greenway on his eccentric afternoon spin through the park had called at one of the resorts on the beach. His visit was marked by an unduly mishap. Miss Ruffo was tauting the intricate steps of the new fox trot to Caliph Ned's complete approval when her partner tripped. Miss Ruffo was thrown with such violence that her arm was fractured. Greenway picked her up, carried her to his automobile and broke all speed laws racing to a hospital.

Without waiting to tell any one of the danger, the girls ran out of the house and down the track until they saw the train coming. Then they stood in the middle of the track and waved their hands. The train came to a stop so suddenly that the passengers were frightened. Several were thrown from their seats and injured.

Women passengers in the Pullman coaches began to scream and men began to rush forward. It looked for a few moments as though someone would be hurt after all in an utterly senseless rush out of a danger that had already been passed.

Conductor W. J. Sherman, who lives at 1415 Bond street, San Francisco; Brakesman Thomas H. Rose, 629 Adeline street, and J. H. Engel, a Pullman porter, handled the situation in such a way that the excited passengers were soon calmed.

The passengers learned what the girls had done to save the train. They surrounded the girls and almost smothered them with hugs and kisses.

Someone passed the hat and in a few minutes a purse of $25 was made up and presented to the girls.

The accident occurred at the junction of the county road and the railroad at Huntington, nine miles south of Marysville. The break in the wire caused a 5000 volt conduit to hang about eight feet over the railroad track.

The train was delayed more than three hours while the wire was being repaired. It was due in San Francisco at 6:30 o'clock last night. It did not arrive until 9:45 o'clock.

An engineer of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company explained last night that the current from such a wire would pass through the train, causing probably a great flash and fire in the first place. As 24 volts is enough to kill an average man, the opinion was expressed that if this wire carried 6000 volts and if it had not been killed by contact with the ground that it would have been "highly dangerous" for every one on the train.

TWO GIRLS FLAG TRAIN: PREVENT BAD ACCIDENT

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 16.—What probably would have been a serious accident to the Panama-Pacific Express on the Western Pacific Railroad near Marysville yesterday afternoon, was averted by the quick, effective work of two young girls, Bernice and Annie Sargent, daughters of a farmer.

One of the high power wires of the Western Pacific Company fell on the track near the Sargent home. The girls, looking out of the window and waiting for the train to go by, saw the fallen wire.

RESCUES FAMILY FROM WAR ZONE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—From the war zone of Europe, where he went to rescue his mother, aunt and niece from the perilous position in which they were placed by the outbreak of hostilities, Patrolman Elmer J. Esperance last night returned safely to San Francisco with the members of his family, and a thrilling narrative of his experiences.

Mrs. Esperance of 940 Shotwell street, Mrs. Irma Champion and Miss Ida Champion, a student at the University of California, of 825 Harrison street, were in the province of Luxembourg, Belgium, when the fighting began. Several times they were forced to take flight from scenes of actual fighting.

They were found at last by Elmer Esperance and a friend at Escombre, France, September 26, lodged in a house, but around them the great guns of the Germans and the allied forces were roaring, hurling destruction into the forces of embattled armies.

Great atrocities were experienced by Esperance and his companion, Fred Wagner, of San Francisco, in winning through to safety after getting the three women safely out of the war zone. At one time, when they had been stopped and ordered back, they gained permission to go on.

Elmer Corbett, the pair, from a cellar, witnessed one of the most deadly engagements of the war.

PRESIDENT BARRED BY THE FAITHFUL RUPERT

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Two motor cars drew up in front of the Hotel Anderson on West Eighth street yesterday afternoon and half a dozen men from them went into the hotel. Three entered the elevator and asked to be taken to the apartment of Mrs. A. Wilson Howe, the sister of President Wilson.

"You are going upstairs unless you are 'nounced'."

"All right then."

"Who'll I 'nounce'?" asked Rupert.

"Mr. Wilson," and as Rupert went to the telephone he heard one of the secret service men added.

"The President of the United States."

Rupert, who has had a West Indian training, stood straight and made his explanation.

"Don't care, Miss Anderson, the owner said just the other day I want to leave no one upstairs 'cept they are 'nounced, not even the President of the United States'."

Writes of the Advantages of the Shower Over Other Forms of Bathing.

SOME PEOPLE WASH DISHES BETTER THAN THEY WASH THEIR BODIES.

Shower baths in hotels have been common for some time and I am glad to note the growing tendency to install them in private homes.

A shower bath does not cost much to put in and takes up little room, but there are the least of its good qualities. The principles of washing anything—clothes, a car, a house, a person—are the same. There is no reason why this same principle should not be applied to the body in washing the body.

Bathing facilities are so common and convenient in America that we have become a race of lazy bathers. In European countries where the set bath is not so common and the movable tub with jets of hot and hot water is all that is available for the daily ablution, it takes a good deal more effort to accomplish it.

In some ways this is a good thing. Soaking in hot, soapy water is enervating. It softens the skin. Neither is it the cleanest way to bathe. A bath should include enough friction to remove not only the dirt of the body, but the natural shedding of the skin, and the rinsing process should be thorough. How often is this accomplished? The average person gets out of the soapy water, dries with a soft towel and imagines that the skin is perfectly clean, when the reverse is true. The soap has washed away the dirt, but the skin is still covered with a film of dead skin cells.

The hot bath in which one has used soap should be followed by a thorough rinsing with a spray of water, getting into a second tub of clean, cold water. When we consider the time this takes we are easily impressed with the advantages of the shower.

The shower bath is not meant for lazy people; it is for people that like to have their blood stirred. There is no soaking in hot water. The first process is a thorough washing with soap and water, then the shower, first warm and then cold, rinses the skin to perfect cleanliness. It also brings the blood to the surface of the skin and gives it a circulation. It is a cleansing process, combined with a healthful amount of physical exercise.

It is very easy to slip on a rubber cap to protect the hair from a wetting, the only objection to this form of bathing.

DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Makes It Dull, Brittle, Lifeless, and Causes It to Fall Out

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do it all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid astringent, apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger-tips.

By morning, most, if not all, of the dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop and your hair will be silky, fluffy, lustrous, softer and looser and feel a hundred times better. You can get this action on at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Aged Women Sending Aid to Belgian Sufferers With Untiring Hands They Labor O'er Work

THEY'RE NOT TOO OLD AND IT'S NEVER TOO LATE AN HOUR FOR THEM TO KNIT IN AID OF SUFFERING HUMANITY, THESE WARDS OF THE LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY. MRS. E. M. McCORD (UPPER) AND MRS. ALICE HUNTER, AGED 85.

With trembling, yet untiring, fingers, inmates of the Ladies' Relief Society Home are knitting wristlets for the Belgian sufferers. Unselfishly the aged women are plying their needles, and though they are laboring in the twilight of their lives, they say that their careers will not be complete until they assist, even in a small way, the distressed Belgians. They are diligently knitting, just as our grandmothers did, and with spectacles on their noses, they rock while they rapidly work. Many of them reluctantly stop their knitting when the lunch bell rings. Several dozen pairs of wristlets have already been made by them for the Belgians. Mrs. Curtis, the matron of the home, is finishing a crochet petticoat for the foreigners, who are anxiously awaiting for the gifts of clothing.

Mrs. Alice Hunter, 85 years of age, who was educated in Belgium and Paris, has expressed much sympathy for the Belgians and was among the first to volunteer to knit for them. Mrs. E. M. McCord, 69 years of age, has already completed three pairs of wristlets, and among the aged knitters are: Mrs. M. A. Pulver, Mrs. K. M. Creath, Miss M. K. Selby and Mrs. Eleanor Stockey.

MOTORCYCLES CLAIM MANY VICTIMS

One Dying; Two Knocked Unconscious as Result of Accident.

FATALLY INJURED—Henry Bregers of Thirty-sixth avenue and East Fourteenth street, Oakland. Seriously injured—Charles Gidell, Pullman; Antonio Frech, Pullman.

Slightly injured—Camilo Valinotti, 1823 Fourth street, Berkeley. The motorcycle claimed an unusual number of victims Saturday night and Sunday as a result of accidents, all of which took place on San Pablo avenue. As a result of one of them, Henry Bregers of East Oakland is dying at Roosevelt Hospital, while three other men are less seriously hurt and under treatment there. Bregers, unconscious from a collision with an East Shore and Suburban street car, was found lying in the street in front of the Six Bells Saloon on San Pablo avenue last night. Frank Wermouth of Richmond and I. Fox of Piedmont, who were driving by in an automobile, found him and took him to Roosevelt Hospital. Nearby lay his badly smashed motorcycle. Bregers has not yet recovered consciousness, and no details as to how the accident occurred are known.

Camilo Valinotti of West Berkeley, while riding a motorcycle along San Pablo avenue, lost control of the machine when it struck a rut in the street and was thrown heavily, receiving painful injury. He was treated at Roosevelt Hospital, Berkeley, by Dr. J. J. Benton.

Uses Teeth in Fray; Opponent Badly Damaged

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—With half of his nose bitten off and a big chunk torn from his lower lip, Andrew Apostolo, of Seventeenth and Utah streets, presented a forbidding appearance when he arrived at the Mission Emergency hospital this morning for treatment.

He told the physician on duty that he had quarreled with a man and that the latter had attacked him, using his teeth like a dog. Patrolmen Slater, Riley and Leswege started out to arrest Apostolo's assailant, but before they finally had him in custody they were forced to break down the door of his home, 662 Rhode Island street, and corner him with their revolvers drawn. He gave the name of Peter Pietro and was booked for mayhem.

The trouble occurred in the saloon of Antonio Juanich, Eighteenth and Vermont streets. After the men had had some words over the reported beauty of a young woman of the neighborhood, they began to fight and the proprietor ejected them. On the sidewalk the battle was renewed and finally Apostolo says Pietro bit him repeatedly on the face, fastening his teeth in his nose and lip and tearing off the flesh. When the officers went to Pietro's home he refused to let them in. They battered down the door, advanced with drawn revolvers, cornered him in a rear room, and finally succeeded in overpowering and handcuffing him. He was positively identified by Apostolo.

BANKS BEGIN UNDER NEW LAW

McAdoo Signs Order Announcing Federal Reserve System Is Operative.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—Secretary McAdoo early today signed the formal order announcing that the 12 Federal reserve banks were established and ready for business. It was the final step required to set in motion the nation's new currency system and find the regional banks ready for operation.

The secretary sent the following telegram of congratulation to the Federal reserve agent and governor of each of the 12 Federal reserve banks: "Please accept my cordial congratulations upon the opening of the Federal reserve bank of your district and my sincere commendation on the effective work you have done in preparing the bank for business in the short time allowed for the opening. I am sure that the Federal reserve banks will serve a great and beneficent purpose in the future of our country, and I am sure that this department and the Federal reserve board made count on your loyal co-operation in the important work and duties which have been confided to you. My hearty wishes for your success."

The regional banks which will serve as centers to provide for the commercial requirements of the country have been established in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Atlanta, Richmond, Dallas and San Francisco. Their operations for the next few months will consist largely of the discounting of notes, drafts and bills of exchange. Later their field will be extended to permit them to exercise remaining functions defined by the currency law.

In the new system are 1511 member banks, with an authorized capital placed at $104,750,000. One-sixth of this amount has been called in and placed in their vaults. Cash reserves in the 12 regional banks aggregated at nearly $25,000,000 drawn under the currency law from the Federal reserve board agents of the member banks.

BERKELEYAN IS REWARDED FOR HEROISM

Guy W. McElroy Receives a Carnegie Medal for Saving Woman.

BERKELEY, Nov. 15.—Announcement was received this morning at the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. that the Carnegie hero fund had awarded to Guy W. McElroy a prize of $1000 and a gold medal for the heroic rescue of Miss Carrie Brune, a former student in the summer session of the university, from drowning in the bay July 27, 1913.

McElroy recently removed from Berkeley to Portland, following his marriage to Miss Hazel Warren of Berkeley, and the award comes as a total surprise to him and to his family. McElroy, with his two brothers, Willis and Chester, and Miss Brune, Miss Velma Benson and a party of several others were yachting in McElroy's boat, The Magic.

While anchored near the Union Iron Works and the Alameda pier, almost in the middle of the bay, when rough weather broke. In a sudden gust of wind the boom swung around, hurling Miss Brune from the boat and, by a hook in its end, catching Miss Benson by the belt and bearing her out over the water.

Guy McElroy immediately dived from the boat and swam to Miss Brune's rescue. Before his brothers could reach him in a row boat, he had sustained her above the water for a quarter of an hour and was close to exhaustion when he and the unconscious young woman were dragged into the small boat. The boom which had caught Miss Brune, meanwhile swung back over the yacht and those on board were able to disentangle her from her precarious position.

FOOTPADS KEEP POLICEMEN BUSY

MATCH CAUSE OF GIRL'S DEATH

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15.—An influx of holdup men and burglars into San Francisco Saturday kept the police and detectives busy yesterday attempting to run the perpetrators down in the various parts of the city.

Three hours after she had stepped on a match, which ignited her clothing, Miss Maud Agnes Deasey, the 19-year-old daughter of T. H. Deasey, a fruit and produce merchant of 108 Ashol avenue, died.

Felix Treville of the Zenobia apartments, 947 Bush street, was held up by two armed men as he was returning to his apartments late Saturday night. The two men had been hiding behind an election booth at Leavenworth and Bush streets. The holdup men secured $16 and a $150 watch from their victim.

Blankets and rugs were quickly procured and she was thrown on the ground, where the flames were at length smothered.

Frank Baker arrived from Minneapolis Saturday morning. In the evening he was wandering about in the vicinity of the waterfront when two men attacked him, beating him severely and securing $10. Baker was treated at the Harbor Emergency Hospital.

Two physicians were at once summoned, but the burns were beyond the hope of medical assistance, and the young woman passed away at 5:30.

What are the odds in favor of the fan who does not wait for the ninth inning to be played? About twelve to one is the answer to this query, furnished by the figures on the 1914
Coast League season. Over 600 games were won and lost during the year and of these there were 52 that were won and lost in the ninth inning.

San Francisco proved the best team in the ninth inning, winning thirteen times in the ninth inning. Venice lost the most games in the ninth inning, losing nine times in the ninth inning.

The best showing by one club
against another was that of San Francisco against Venice, the Seals
winning seven times in the ninth
inning, with Venice only once
turning the tables.

The following table shows games
won and lost in the ninth inning by each club against each other club. Reading across shows games won; reading
down shows games lost:

Port.	San F.	San P.	San M.	Oak.	Wen.
Port.	1	0	2	1	1
San F.	0	1	0	2	1
San P.	3	1	0	2	1
San M.	2	3	1	0	1
Oak.	0	2	3	0	1
Wen.	0	2	3	0	1

Big Ed Klepper of Venice will go
down in the 1914 record book as the best pitcher in the Coast League.
During the season he piled up a total
of 212 strikeouts and was the only pitcher in the league to pass the two century mark. Long Tom Hughes of Los Angeles took second honors with
a total of 199 strikeouts.

But whatever the record book may
show on the surface, Lefty Williams
will know that down below the surface the strikeout honors of the season belonged to him. For according to the number of innings pitched, Wil-iams' record is better than that of any other pitcher in the league.

Williams did not join Sacramento
until June, and more than two months
of the season have passed when he
pitched his first game in the league.
In the last five months of the season
he pitched 277 2-3 innings and struck
out 171 men, an average of one strike-
out to every 1.62 inning. Klepper's
record is second to that of Williams
in the percentage basis. Klepper has fanned 212 men in 373 innings,
an average of one strikeout to every 1.76 innings. Hughes fanned 190 men

WOUNDED FRENCH
CYCLIST OUT OF
SIX-DAY GRIND

Dick Rudolph Starts Fastest
Cycle Race Gotham
Has Ever Seen.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Seventeen of the world's fastest cyclists whirled over the ten lap course at Madison Square garden today in the swiftest six day
bicycle race ever staged in America.

The best showing by one club
against another was that of San Francisco against Venice, the Seals
winning seven times in the ninth
inning, with Venice only once
turning the tables.

won and lost in the ninth inning by
each club against each other club. Reading across shows games won; reading
down shows games lost:

Port.	San F.	San P.	San M.	Oak.	Wen.
Port.	1	0	2	1	1
San F.	0	1	0	2	1
San P.	3	1	0	2	1
San M.	2	3	1	0	1
Oak.	0	2	3	0	1
Wen.	0	2	3	0	1

Big Ed Klepper of Venice will go
down in the 1914 record book as the
best pitcher in the Coast League.
During the season he piled up a total
of 212 strikeouts and was the only
pitcher in the league to pass the two
century mark. Long Tom Hughes of Los Angeles took second honors with
a total of 199 strikeouts.

But whatever the record book may
show on the surface, Lefty Williams
will know that down below the sur-
face the strikeout honors of the season belonged to him. For according to
the number of innings pitched, Wil-
iams' record is better than that of
any other pitcher in the league.

Williams did not join Sacramento
until June, and more than two months
of the season have passed when he
pitched his first game in the league.
In the last five months of the season
he pitched 277 2-3 innings and struck
out 171 men, an average of one strike-
out to every 1.62 inning. Klepper's
record is second to that of Williams
in the percentage basis. Klepper has
fanned 212 men in 373 innings,
an average of one strikeout to every

ENTIRE FOOTBALL TEAM ARRESTED

COLUMBIA, S. C., Nov. 16.—
Members of the Clemson college football team were arrested last night at the direction of authorities of the college, which is a military institution, according to a dispatch received here. The last game of the season was played last night. The charge against them is not known here. The team returned today from Richmond, Va.,
where it defeated Virginia Military Institute yesterday.

CARDINAL HOST,
BACK TO 'FARM,'
GETS OVATION

Stanford to Lose Some Stars,
But Retains Great Team.

Stanford rugbyists have returned to the farm where they were received by an enthusiastic crowd. Although the chief interest of the season is passed with Saturday's game, still many important games remain on the rugby calendar.
On Thanksgiving day, the Cardinal squad will journey to Sacramento to meet the Sacramento Athletic Club. The variety fifteen on November 23, will journey to Reno, Nevada, for a game with the University of Nevada.

The post season attraction for which the fans are eager, will be in the Titan-Barbarian and Olympic club clashes.
These games will be played on November 27, 28 and 29. The Barbarians for the varieties, but they have many former stars in their lineup, and all with a little training, could compete for a place on any big team.

The Forbes boys, Slater brothers, Skinner, Knowles, Lazar, Reimers, Montoya, and McMahon of the Titans; Morgan, Davidson, Cash, De Mar, Bouley,
and Huttman of the Barbarians; and J. and G. Montgomery, Hawkes, and Latt of the Olympics are only a few of the star players.

INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT.
The interest is centered in the All-American-British game. The choice of the players will be mostly from the Stanford and California teams. McKim, Vines, Saunders, Tilden, Russell, Carroll, and Montgomery are the players from the Stanford team. The British team will consist of the following: Carroll, Vines, Saunders, Tilden, Russell, and Montgomery.

WAGERING UPON
AZEVEDO-BURNS
IS EVEN MONEY

Portuguese Evidently Figured
to Show a Big Improvement.

(BY THE TIMEKEEPER.)
Wagering on the coming Azevedo-Burns match opened today along Broadway, and the first bets were recorded at even money, though the general impression had been that Burns, who in former years was a sure 10-1 favorite.

Shrewd students of the game evidently figure that Joe Azevedo stands a better chance to win this time than he did in his last fight. Youth will be served, and youth and a wonderful constitution are Joe Azevedo's best friends.

The little Portuguese was given a mighty boost when the battles were stopped the last time, and the knowledge of that will send Azevedo into the ring this time with much confidence that Manager Rohan actually looks for Burns to be knocked out.

There is so much professional jealousy between the two boys, and their supporters are so busy running each other down that there is certain to be a tremendous lot of excitement in connection with this last fifteen-round bout in Oakland.

Azevedo has Kid Keiley training with him, a 145-pound boy who was with Burns in former bouts and who is probably the best fighter in the world. Azevedo will be a much better fighter than he was in his last fight.

Meanwhile Frankie is taking no chances and is working steadily and well. He

You would seriously consider it, wouldn't you? We urge you to seriously consider the purchase of a

SHERIFF'S AUTO PUZZLE; CONTRACT IS DELAYED

Salesmen All Said Barnett Wanted Their Goods; Friday to Decide

What kind of an automobile Sheriff Barnett wants was a puzzle, the solving of which laid over an auto contract until Friday at the session of the supervisors this morning. Each bidder declared his machine was the particular make wanted by the sheriff's office. Bids were laid over pending a written preference from Barnett himself, he being out on business when the salesmen started the dispute. The machine will replace an old one at the sheriff's office, which is to be sold.

Children Detained When Liner Lands

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 16.—Two little American girls, Ethel and Catherine Binder, aged 11 and 15 years, who, however, were born in Japan, were detained at the immigration station on arrival on board the Chitose Maru today. They had been attending a French convent at Yokohama and are en route to Tacoma, where their father is a business.

Binder was engaged in commercial activity in Japan for a number of years, and his daughters were both born there. As is the custom with the Federal government, the girls were detained until inquiry could be made regarding their destination. The authorities were soon satisfied of their identity as Mr. and Mrs. Binder were both at the dock expecting to welcome them.

On learning that the girls had been taken to the island, they were hurried over to a fond reunion of the little family.

Soboransky is already in custody in connection with the case. Soboransky and his wife were taken to the jail and will be held until the warrant can be served.

'THE WHIP' SUCCESS; 'FOOD' ORPHEUM HIT

Vaudeville Bills for This Week Are Bright

"Curry-puffs"
The heavy villain, relegated to the archives of the past by those many moons, since the "Movies" dimmed the glow of the "Ten-Ten-Ten-Ten" signs—the dark browed desperado who draws hisses from the audience as he bites his nails and rolls the "Pis" in his cigar—is revived; he strikes the stage, villainous as ever, at the Macdonough last night—and the hisses were as abundant as ever when they greeted him in "The Whip."

"The Whip" is one of the biggest stage ventures ever brought across the seas. A thrilling horse race, rivaling the chariot race of "Ben Hur" in ingenuity, a spectacular train wreck, a "curry-puff" and a "curry-puff" of a villain and his fast accomplice, as well as a love story and a few touches of comedy—all are combined in a series of striking acts. They take care to advertise that it isn't a moving picture, and really, it couldn't be done in "movies." A movie can't roll the "Pis" in the cigars, and that's half the show.

"The Whip" deals with a famous horse race, a plot to kill him, and of course the lovers depending on his victory to win the race and the villain feeling rather the other way about it. The race is the big scene. The train wreck is another touch of the villain's villainy. It is a melodrama, but a finished edition; perfection in the style of play that never was played perfectly before the ultimate in thrills. And several bright and shining stars appear.

One of them is named Shine—no joke intended. John F. Shine, as the veteran horse trainer, adds general pleading touches of comedy to the play, especially in the scene where he impersonates a statue and hears the villain's plots. The villain, "There are the boys," Eric Magnus is as villainous in his part as any actor could be, and he should be proud of it. Mildred Cottell, as his accomplice, is some villainous herself. It seemed as if they were just made to hiss. Hilda Honiss was the heroine, and a heart-winner from the first scene. Miss Alice Esden, a Mrs. Beamish, adds both pathos and humor to the offering. One hundred people, ten horses and 30 dogs are in the remarkable scenic spectacle. "The Whip" will run all week.

ORPHEUM

"Oh, the eggs soared high
Till they met the sky
Oh, lay-hee-hee-hoo!"

That's the way Will Oakland would have rodeled it if he'd been in Gertrude Coghlan's place, but he wasn't, so what's the use of supposing? Will rodeled, but in his own place, and Miss Coghlan acted, just as seriously as if the play of the million dollar egg had been as serious as it may be—if the high cost of living rises any further. And thus they make an Orpheum holiday out of music and comedy.

All of which is a prelude to the statement that they're the best bill in Orpheum this week that they've had in many moons. There are a few features that it's almost impossible to pick the winner—but it probably lies between Will Oakland (no relation to "My City") and Miss Coghlan. Oakland, whose remarkable counter-tenor voice has long won him photograph fame, sings with all masters of harmony, in a tabloid musical comedy—mostly songs. He sings several solos, and the ensemble work of the company is perfect.

Miss Coghlan, as before stated, acts seriously in a play that's from a certain point of view, which an egg fifty years from now, is priceless. It is a clever take-off on the high cost of living, and the struggles of a millionaire to keep ahead of the Food Trust, with crackers at $500 a piece and milk fifty cents per egg, are laughable. A million-dollar egg is a "curry-puff."

Miss Coghlan and her company act the little farce with an intensity that is really the reason for the laughs that greet it. The act must be seen to be appreciated; and once seen will bring many a remonstrant snicker in time to come. Another star of the bill was a certain black canine owned by one Methan, who presents a dog act. This black dog is a jumper of class, and his leaping feats brought round after round of applause. Another dog star appeared in the "movies" that followed. Indeed, the dog has his day on the Orpheum bill.

Martin Van Bergen, cowboy singer, renders several selections, and Sror and Mack, in blackface, make laughs out of hot air and a few burlesque steps. The Travilla Brothers, with their diving seals; Eunice Burnham and Charles Irwin, musical minstrelsy; the Alce Trio, and motion pictures round out the bill.

PANTAGES

Pantages headliners have been running in groups of three lately, and the program was followed again that way yesterday, when "The Sinking of the Titanic," "Twenty Minutes With the Board of Supervisors" and "The Guide of Monte Carlo" all appeared on the same bill. The first named was the most sensational. It was a mechanical reproduction, built from survivors' descriptions of the wreck of the steamship, which went to its doom on an iceberg in the North Atlantic. Well-lit scenic effects and remarkable electrical work aid in making this mechanical marvel unique in theatrical history.

Teddy McNamara, Queenie Williams and the rest of the clever Pollard children are presented in "The Guide to Monte Carlo," a combination of "Littles" and snappy dances. "The Super-slowers" act is a twenty-minute side taken from a city not far away. Of course, it's adapted to theatrical needs—but still there's truth in some of it—and it's certainly interesting.

The Resell Singers, Saunders and Von Kurtz, in a made-for-laughter sketch; Lockhart and Laddie, and motion pictures round out the bill.

COLUMBIA

A queer title is augmented by a few decided novelties in Dillon and King's latest conglomeration of music and laughter, except "T.T." as presented at the Columbia this week. In the first place they've put in a rival for Jack Reedwood, musical director, in the person of Josephine Iveland, who follows a piano on the stage and rivals the latter in the piano pit, and Ben Dillon says it's further proof that you have to hand it to the Irish.

Will King opens as a hen-pecked husband who rises in righteous wrath and trains his wife at the close of the show—Ben Dillon is vice versa, and Ruby Lang trains him. In the meantime Paisley Noon, Vilma Stech, George Spaulding and Jack Wise dance about and fill the spaces, and the Ginger holds a little music and target test on the stage—with Joe DeLore playing. And she plays as well as she sings—and that's going some. Helene Woods does some clever comedy work in this same act, and Dot Wilson winks. Altogether it's now, and one of the best things Dillon and King have put on this season. Oh, yes—they call it "T.T." because they want to mystify the audience—they have to have some fun once in a while. The answer's in the play—if you guess it.

MISS ALICE ESDEN.

BROADWAY

The clean, pure comedy-drama of the highest educational sort, there is nothing in the motion picture world to compare with the film version of "The Ragged Earl," with Andrew Mack, greatest interpreter of Irish characters on the stage today, in the title role, which commenced a three days' engagement at the Broadway theater yesterday. It is a "pure food" film comedy romance as compared with the "adulterated candy" entertainment being produced by many motion picture firms.

In the five-reel production of this famous comedy of Ireland, a perfect Irish atmosphere is produced. Every one of the large cast has a sympathetic understanding of Celtic character and gives a natural portrayal. Then the picture was filmed in Ireland, and there are wonderful scenes along the Lancaster turnpike, in Fairmount Park and on the Wicklow drive. Especially beautiful are several moonlight scenes. The costumes are absolutely accurate for the period portrayed, adding greatly to the enjoyment of the film.

Of course, Andrew Mack is the whole production. The role of Gerald Fitzgerald, Earl of Kildare, known as the ragged Earl, is his favorite character, and he has achieved an even greater success than on the legitimate stage in this, his latest camera portrayal. His interpretation of the devil-may-care, carefree, but deep through generosity, laughing at setbacks and fighting one man or a dozen with his trusty sword to win the girl of his choice, is one long to remember.

Then there is Orni Hawley, with most bewitching dimples and roguish eyes, who makes a dramatic personality of the girl, Kathleen. But it must be admitted that her masquerading as a boy to escape from an enforced marriage, was not exactly a success, for she is too girlishly pretty. The love passages between her and Mack are the film furnish the most delightful scenes the screen has presented in some time.

"The Ragged Earl" will only be seen at the Broadway today and tomorrow, for Jacob P. Adler, greatest of Jewish actors, comes Wednesday in a four days' presentation of the spectacular "Immortal" of Israel, the great novel of Russian intrigue, "Michael Strogoff."

FRANKLIN

Charm of treatment and diversity of incidents in a dramatic presentation in a photodrama of five acts, but the success of the play depends very largely upon the subject chosen. It cannot be trivial. It must be strong enough to carry sustained interest to the end. The precious thing is to engage sympathetic feeling at the earliest possible moment, and intensify it as the principal character approaches the desired end. Exactly this is done in "The Heart of Midlothian," the feature of the program at the Franklin theater. The picture play is an adaptation from Sir Walter Scott's novel of the same title and deals with the injustice of enforcing old laws that work great wrongs in most cases. The theme in a general way suggests what is now going on in our midst. The attack on many old laws upon the ability and integrity of those who make and enforce the law is going on actively at the present day. Hence it is that the deepening purpose behind this photodrama is wholly in accord with progressive ideals of our present generation.

A splendid cast of English actors and actresses with a finished interpretation of the leading roles. Especially noteworthy is the work of Violet Hopson as Jeanne Deans. She is serenely simple in appearance, but there is a depth and sincerity in her impersonations that fascinate from the moment she takes off her shoes at the beginning of her long tramp to London, that she may save them for the old to the moment after many perils adventures, she reaches the presence of the Queen and pleads for her sister's life.

The remainder of the program is well up to the high standard. The last half of the week commencing Thursday, an unusual Vitaphone feature, entitled "T.T." will be shown. This picture has for its climax the most realistic train wreck scenes ever filmed.

John Barrymore, one of the most prominent of the young stars of the American stage, was presented yesterday, in his second motion picture success "The Thin Red Line," at the popular Oakland Photo at the Winn From Mewes. It is a love story, written by H. A. Du Solme and will be run for three days at the Oakland Photo last time to see it being Wednesday evening. It is a type of play

CONSTIPATION, COLDS, HEADACHES, REGULATE YOUR BOWELS! 10 CENTS

Furred tongue, Bad Colds, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and constipated bowels, which cause your stomach to be filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—Indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, severe colds, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowel regular and make you feel cheerful and bulky for months. Don't forget your children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too, occasionally—Advt.

In which John Barrymore excels. With his exasperatingly humorous facial expression, his ludicrous gestures and his general method of portraying farcical tribulations of sorrows, he finds himself admirably suited in a character such as Fitzhugh in "The Man From Mexico."

Fitzhugh, a gay young benedict, has not yet discarded the cardinal robe of his bachelor days, which is an inevitable habit of lying. Through his perpetual falsehoods he contrives to place himself in many predicaments which are invariably explained by bigger and greater lies. But he meets his Waterloo when he is arrested for disorder, and sentenced to thirty days. He glibly tells his wife that it will be necessary for him to go to Mexico for a month, at the expiration of that time ends his sentence. He returns home to find his wife thoroughly familiar with all his relations to Mexico, including even its language and its costumes.

The riotous Keystone comedy and a good number of the Pathé Daily News completes one of the best programs to comedy ever offered at the popular Oakland Photo theater. Thursday and Saturday, Edward Abner comes in "Ready Money," and Charles Bl. comes in "Across the Pacific."
